SUMMARY

AI/ML undergraduate with experience in Python and machine learning, with projects in computer vision, code analysis, and authentication systems. Completed certifications in Python, Data Science, and government-recognized IT programs. Seeking opportunities to apply skills to real-world applications.

PROJECTS

Built AI/ML-based systems including computer vision, code analysis, and authentication applications using backend APIs and databases.

HygieneVision | YOLOv8, FastAPI | GitHub

- Built a real-time hygiene monitoring system with YOLOv8 using IoF-based spatial analysis for improved detection under occlusions.
- Designed a modular pipeline supporting webcam, video, and API-based inputs for flexible deployment.
- Implemented debounce-based event logging to reduce duplicate alerts in continuous monitoring.

CodeSage | RAG, FAISS | GitHub

- Developed a RAG-based code intelligence system combining AST and dependency graphs for context-aware retrieval.
- Built dependency analysis to estimate change impact across modules in large codebases.
- Implemented automated code analysis and refactoring suggestions based on structural complexity.

Sentinel Face Secure | MobileNetV2, FastAPI | GitHub

- Built a facial authentication system with multi-modal liveness detection to reduce spoofing attacks.
- Designed a privacy-focused pipeline storing encrypted embeddings instead of raw images.
- Optimized for edge devices using lightweight CNN models for efficient real-time processing.
